SAN LUIS OBISPO, May 13.—Three survivors of the Roanoke testified at the inquest that the steamer was overloaded and listed when leaving San Francisco. They attributed some of the loss of life to delay in launching lifeboats and lack of drills among the crew. They said it required about half an hour to get the boats into the water.

BIG LEDGE FOUND ON THE SAND GRASS

TONOPAH MINING CO. CUTS THE BIG FORMATION FOUND IN THE EXTENSION

The Tonopah Mining company announces the cutting of the Murray depth of 1200 feet but the extent of the ledge cannot be stated since the vein has not been pierced to the other wall.

This accounts for the action of the company installing a double skip on this the furthest westerly section of its holdings and the adding of a third shift to the milling crew at Millers. The Sand Grass is virtually virgin ground having been prospected only recently following the settlement of a trespass suit against the Tonopah Extension. The shaft is down 1000 feet but a winze carries the workings to a depth of 1200 feet where laterals were run as well as on the 1140 intermediate. The vein system developed in the Sand Grass correlates closely with the Murray ledge although it is known in the Tonopah company's ground as the south vein. The north vein of the Sand Grass corresponds with the North Merger vein which at one time formed the subject of threatened litigation. The third vein was opened in a breccia formation on the intermediate. This is about three feet wide with an east and west strike.

DEATH VALLEY DISTRICT HUMMING WITH THE BUZZ OF CATERPILLARS

"Everything is prospering in the country tributary to our line," remarked Frank M. Jenifer, traffic manager of the Tonopah & Tidewater railroad to the Bonanza this morning as he was about to leave for the south. "The mines of the lower country around Death Valley are rapidly developing a tonnage that is all the more surprising since this is the dull period of the year. South of Beatty, I estimate there are 450 men steadily employed and there is a good chance for the number to increase as more work is being done and more improvements installed by every company operating. The Tecopa company has just finished its big concentrator which handles 75 tons daily and, in addition to this the company is delivering to us an average of 35 cars a month. This company owns eleven miles of standard gauge railroad connecting its several mines with our tracks at Tecopa. At Grant, twelve miles east of Tecopa, I understand the company has opened one of the richest ore bodies in its holdings. The Gunsight and Noonday mines are keeping up their output. At Death Valley Junction the master of the borax company is running to capacity. At Baker, forty miles north of Ludlow, one of the Riggs properties is shipping three cars a week of silver-lead ore.

"The manganese mine at Owl's head that has attracted so much attention was sold recently by Alexander Yeoman to the Mollett Development company, a steel concern of Massillon, Ohio, for $50,000 and that company is shipping at the rate of 1,000 tons a month. They have put in two thirty ton Holt tractors of the caterpillar type to haul their ores the distance of 27 miles to the railroad at Riggs.

"The Ibox at Zabriskie has been taken over by the Goodsprings company and is preparing for an output of zinc ore that will almost equal the production of the parent mine at Goodsprings. This company is putting on auto trucks and may build a narrow gauge railroad to cover the distance of 14 miles between the tracks and the mine. The company at Carbonate has had trouble in finding the right type of tractor, but now has secured one that is capable of doing excellent service. This motor came in last week giving the company two trucks and tractors capable of delivering 500 tons a month. In the agricultural line the only new development is with the Pahump Land company which is shipping in large herds to feed on that ranch which is improving rapidly under the present management.

CATHOLICS DECIDE TO BUILD A CHURCH

RESULT OF THE SECOND MEETING OF CONGREGATION OF ST. PATRICK'S

Last evening at a meeting of the congregation of St. Patrick's church held in Knights of Columbus hall it was resolved to proceed with the consideration of plans for the construction of a new church on the present site. Among the plans under advisement are specifications for a stone structure but, after consulting with several engineers, it was deemed advisable to forego all thought of a stone structure and proceed with a frame building of somewhat larger capacity. The site on top of the old Fraction dump would not furnish a suitable foundation for an edifice of masonry or all concrete as suggested by some ambitious builders. Details of the project have been left to the building committee.
